THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Stole $354,000.

A Bookkeeper of a New York Bank Had a Lawyer as an Accomplice.

A defalcation, amounting to $354,000, in the funds of the Shoe and Leather national bank, of New York city, was made public Saturday. Alterations in the books were made by Samuel C. Seely, a trusted bookkeeper, and the money was drawn out by an accomplice, a depositor, named Frederick R. Baker, a prominent lawyer. Seely is missing, and Baker was drowned Saturday near his home at Flushing. It is sup-posed that Baker committed suicide. Seely probably left for Europe several days ago

The thefts have extended over a period of nearly ten years, and were accomplished by means of fictitions balances, false credits and corresponding debits entered in the ledger. Seely tampered with more than 100 accounts, it is believed, and credited the money debited upon them to Baker's account, and the money was drawn out of the bank by Baker in sums of several thousand dollars at a time, at intervals some times of only three or four days. The bank officers had the utmost confidence in Seely, who was a quiet, home-loving man; and the treasurer of the United States Guarantee company, which was Seely's surety, said, when told of his defalcation: There was not a man in the bank about whom we felt safer than about Seely. Seely thought he was under suspicion and obtained a leave of absence, with the in-tention of fleeing. The substitute book-keeper who took his place discovered the stealings. The directors of the bank and the examiners have never had a suspicion

The Remarkable Record of the Young

Holmes, who is in quod in Philadelphia awaiting the action of the courts on his crimes and misdemeanors, has married and disposed of four wives, by whom in one way or another he came into possession of $50,000. He has been paid $60,000 by various fire insurance companies on claims that he appears to have manufactured for the occasion, and as near as can be learned from his own confessions he has realized something like $50,000 from life insurance companies on the lives of sundry persons who are understood to be still living. For a young man of 35, who started out penniess from New Hampshire a few years ago to make his own way in the world, he seems to be a good deal of a genius of a peculiar sort. He is suspected of having murdered the wives and other people who have dis-

The Marriage of the Czar Nicholas II. The wedding of Czar Nicholas II. and Princess Alix of Hesse Darmstadt (Germany) took place Monday in the cathedral at St. Petersburg with elaborate and imposing ceremonies, and in the presence of a brilliant throng of royal personages from abroad and the highest Russian officials. The marriage of the Czar has been hastened in accordance with the last wishes of his father. The betrothal was announced by the Emperor of Germany at the royal wedding in Coburg a few months ago, and wedding in Coburg a few months ago, and Queen Victoria's granddaughter is now Empress of Russia. The match is popular in St. Petersburg, where the young sovereign has already endeared himself to his subjects by revealing his confidence in their loyalty. While he has created excitement and dismay among his household servants and the police officials by walking unattended in the streets and mingling freely with the people without the protection of military guards, he has intrenched himself in the affections of Russians. It is evident from the intense enthusiasm with which from the intense enthusiasm with which the wedding procession was greeted that the Czar and his German-English bride are opening their reign under the brightest aus-pices. Haunted.

A haunted house in these practical and unre-mantle days is something of a rarify, but an in-dividual haunted with the idea that his ailment is incurable is a personage frequenty met with. Disbelief in the ability of medicine to cure only a mild form of monomania, although in some cases repeated failures to obtain relief from many different sources would almost seem to justify the doubt. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has demonstrated its ability to overcome dyspepsia, consti-pation, liver and kidner trouble, malarial compation, liver and sciences, and its recorded achieve ments in the curative line ought at least to war-rant its trial by any one troubled with any of the above ailments, even although his previous efforts to obtain remedial aid have been fruitless. Used with persistence, the Bitters will conquer the most obstinate cases.

FOR WEAK WOMEN.

A Discovery of Priceless Value

What Gives One Woman Advantage Over Another.

How to Be Master of Yourself and Look Your Best. Shakespeare says : "He jests at scars that never felt a wound." How often it happens that weak, suffering women are subjects of ridicule by friends, who, being well themselves, cannot understand such feelings in others. Yet there is no more terrible suffering than that resulting from nervousness, and it is the most prevalent of all complaints.

The most frightful tortures baunt the mind; the person is in constant dread of impending evil; sleep refuses to come, and the merest trifles cause worry and anxiety. Thoughts of insanity develop, and the poor sufferer feels we-k, tired and unable to do anything. There are sometimes faintness and sinking at the stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, and lack of interest in society and daily affairs. Female weakness, with pains in the side, back or abdomen, are often present. Miss Nettie Richards, of Livermore Falls, Maine, says:

"For two years I had hysterics, and was fearfully nervous. "I would have them every day, and was in a terrible condition. My limbs were cold all the time. I could not sleep nights and had no appetite. My nerves were in a frightful state and I was vura blood and nerv remety.

"After taking three bottles of this wonderful medicine I was in perfect health. I think it a splendid medicine and would advise everybody to try it."

To look well and feel well you want strong nerves and good blood. They are quickly, surely and permanently made by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is doing wonderful work among the sick and suffering. It will cure among the sick and suffering. It will cure you also. You need just such a remedy. NEVER Before In the History of the United States Has Ground Wheat Been Cheaper Than Corn.

We wonder whether our friends who are feeding stock of any kind realize the great economy of using wheat for meal at present values. The merit of bran, or shorts, has long been acknowledged.

There has always been a strite on the part of the miller to eave as little flour in his bran as is possible, and a desire on the part of the consumers to have a bran as rich in flour as can be obtained. This shows the value of the finer parts of the wheat kernel.

It is claimed by some, who have tried the experiment that wheat for feeding hogs is worth 50 per cent more than corn,

Today you can have the whole of the richness of wheat at less cost per pound than the cost of corn meal.

Intelligent feeders will know how to experiment successfully and establish for themselves the great value of this feed, now available, and likely to be used to an immense amount until new corn is marketed and possibly much longer.
